

1 Context-Sensitive Help

It is possible to initiate the "Dynamic Help", a type of context-sensitive help from the menu bar. A view opens with a forward and a backward button to navigate and a brief description of the view or editor that is currently open. If you change to another view, the content of the help view changes simultaneously.