

1 Dictionary Grid View

To look up the entry in the dictionary, click the short form listed in the Dictionary Search Results View. The entry will open in the Dictionary Grid View. The tabs in the head of the Dictionary Grid View lead to further information about the online dictionary and the project into which the online dictionary is embedded. The field at the top of the left column is used for searching lemmas. This quick view starts with the article in question. It lists the following articles as well, depending on their length. You can use all options available in the online dictionaries to search in more detail. In this view, the context menu corresponds to the context menu of your operating system.